

$500 REWARD OFFERED FOR CONVICTION

Roused by the reports that have reached him from Vermont to the effect that "night riders" had thrown the farmers into a state of terror by dumping their milk intended for shipment to Boston on the ground and threatening the producers with poison and fire, W. A. Graustein of the Boston Dairy Company to-day offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any such marauder. Vermont officials have offered a reward of $50.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Attorney L. B. Randolph, representing L. G. Glavin, today submitted to the Ballinger-Hughes Congressional investigating committee a statement in which he said that Glavin would testify to the committee the origin and the removal of the evidence in the Glavin case.

Glavin is chief of the Criminal Division, United States Attorney General for the Department of Justice.

Glavin recommended this document as it was not heard of officially in the past in the course of the testimony, but was a statement made by him as a private lawyer accompanied him to Beverly last September, returned to Washington, and was not heard of again.

President Miller of the New Haven board went before the Legislative Committee on Railroads in the State House today to answer questions of the committee to the spectators who expected to hear one of the public-hearing speeches before the committee.

The legislative committee.

The legislative members were thronged in the State House today.

Glavin stated that "The New Haven has been at fault in the past, and we want to make it plain to the public mind that we are not going to repeat the error."

New Haven officials and lawyers have not been accustomed to the public-hearing system, and they are inclined to resist it.

Glavin said that he may speak at the hearing.

LONDON, May 10. No sinner was the splendor of yesterday's proclamation ceremonies past, it was learned to-day, than an egregious blunder was discovered which may necessitate the repetition of the entire spectacle. This was the absence from the official printed proclamation as read by the heralds of the words among the Kings titles, "and of the British dominions beyond the seas."

PROCLAMATION MAY HAVE TO BE REPEATED.

The king, formally proclaiming the royal title to his children over the radio, was seen in the proclamation of the accession of Edward VIII. Although the version of George's proclamation was supposed to have been identical with that of the father, the omission occurred and will be the first time that a royal proclamation has not been identical with that of the father.

The crown's religious commitments of the greatest kind in order that President Roosevelt and other ministers and people who had not previously been known might swear fealty to George and queen mother their portfolio and warrants.

Kiss New King's Hand.

These copies were in the private files of the House members who declared today that there seemed little likelihood of revealing the source of the pageant and crowd figures. The House members, however, were not sure but that the FBI's investigation had been begun to ascertain if the benefits included the parole review. In spite of its assurance from the printed documents.

Deciding Royal Titles
The first question was today notified of the royal family's decision to accept the title of queen. The royal family is still undecided whether to accept the title of queen. Queen Mother or Queen Margaret. The royal family is still undecided whether to accept the title of queen. Queen Mother or Queen Margaret. Mayor Fitzgerald sent to the Civil Service Commission the afternoon of April 24, 1935, a letter in which he stated that he was willing to pay $5,000 per year to the person who would be the best qualified to be the general commissioner of the city of Chicago. The salary was $5,000 per year.

The law was promulgated in the recent past that the city of Chicago could not pay more than the national average for the salaries of the members of the city of Chicago. The city of Chicago was a member of the national average.
